A small group of Primary 5 students from Taobh na Pairce Primary School have created a brilliant plan to raise money for a local charity that assists people in the community. Following a visit to the school from a charity representative, the students set out to create a way of raising much needed funds.

The students presented the fundraising idea to school headteacher Ms McPhail, who saw great potential in the plan to have a bring and buy sale and, in turn, raise money for the local charity. She stated that 'the children have displayed a true sense of community in their fundraising plan.' Following a meeting with teachers, it is hoped that the pupils can begin to implement the plan. 'The school would support students wholly in the fund raising venture,' Ms McPhail added.

The school plans to carry out the bring and buy sale in April. For more information on this fundraising plan, visit the Taobh na Pairce website (<https://www.taobhnairce.edin.sch.uk/>).
